Pray for the peace, which long Hath left this tortured land, and help now Hold us white court on some far mountain's brow.

There hard safe from wrong.

Evermore sacred name
Call us ever to the shrine of God; and
With the cloister and the tented sod,
Join in the son on a strain.

With pomp of Roman form,
With the grave ritual brought from England, more,

And with the simple faith which asks no more.

He, who till time shall cease
Shall seek that earth where none at all In vain.

He gave to me peace, will not disdain
A prayer whose theme is peace.

Perhups, ere yet the spring
Hath died into the summer, over all The earth the peace of His vast love shall fall.

Like some protecting wing.

Oh, ponder what it means;

Oh, turn the rapturous thought in every way,

Oh, let the vision a d' fancy play,

And shape the coming scenes.

Peace in the quiet dellis,

Made rankly fertile by the blood of men;

Peace in the wood and in the lonely green;

Peace in the people's date;

Peace in the crowded town,

Peace in the thousand fields of waving grain,

Peace in the highway and the flowery lane,

Peace on the wind swept down.

Peace on the farthest seas,

Peace on our sheltered bays and ample streets,

Peace, whereso'er our starry garland gleams;

And peace in every breeze;

Peace to the whirling marts,

Peace where the scholars think, the hunter roams,

Peace to God! Peace! peace, in all
And peace in all our hearts!

POETIC ELOQUENCE.—The following original poetic speech was perpetrated on yesterday by one of our new Methodists, this morning, among our members this week, making contributions of the amount of $100.00 to the Y. M. C. A. of the city of Oxford, N. C. met with a most generous response.
Provisions, confections, dry goods,
hardware, clothing, hats, shoes, etc., etc., were freely given, and the articles aggregating between four and five thousand pounds in weight, have been forwarded to Oxford. There are we understand, about one hundred and twenty-five persons in the congregation, and the institution, it is stated, is in very great need of help. Just such things as were really wanted for the children were contributed here, and we trust much good will be accomplished by this timely gathering.

OUR NEW COUSIN.—The Richmond correspondent of the Petersburg DAILY NEWS says:

"The young man, formerly

Speaker of the House of Representatives, has been married to Miss Mary

W. Woodson. The ceremony was performed at Dr. Hoge's church, Dr.

Hoge and Rev. Dr. J. C. Granby officiating.

Miss Woodson is the author of "The Way it All Ended," and has been a constant contributor for years past to Northern literary periodicals.

The couple left immediately for Norfolk, and from thence will go to Europe.

furnish nothing of any moment, notwithstanding the approach of the joyous season.

The noise on the streets last night denoted Christmas, but we don't think the general business of the city equals former seasons.

THE DAILY NEWS.

FRIDAY.....DECEMBER 23, 1875.

JOHN W. DUNHAM.....Editor.

JORDAN STONE.....Manager.

THE DAILY NEWS is the Only Paper in the City of Raleigh That Takes the Telegraphic Reports, &c.

JOB PRINTING.

The NEWS Job Department has been thoroughly supplied with every needed want and with the latest style of Types, and every manner of Job Work can now be done with neatness, dispatch and cheapness. We can furnish at short notice

BLANKS,
BILL HEADS, LETTER HEADS,
CARDS, PROGRAMMES,
HANDBILLS, PAMPHLETS,
POSTERS, CHECKS, DRAFTS, &c.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

Under the new postal law, which goes into effect on the first of January, 1876, we will be required to pay the postage on the NEWS. This will add much to the expense of publication, but no ADVANCE will be made in the subscription price on either our DAILY or WEEKLY. The price, as heretofore, will be:

DAILY: One year, (postage paid) $7.00.
Six months, " 3.50.
Three " 2.00.

WEEKLY: One year, (postage paid) $2.00.
Six months, " 1.00.

This will prove quite a reduction in the price of the NEWS, as the postage now paid by subscribers is $1.20 upon the Daily, being virtually a reduction to that extent. This, with the recent enlargement of the NEWS, will make it the cheapest paper in the State.

Under the new system the cash plan will be rigidly enforced, as we cannot afford to send the paper on credit and pre-pay the postage, and all subscriptions not renewed by the first of January will be promptly discontinued. We hope every subscriber will promptly renew.

JORDAN STONE, Manager.

THE STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

We are requested to call the attention of the members of the State Executive Committee of the Conservative party to the call for a meeting of the Committee in this city, on Wednesday, the 20th day of January next. The State Committee is composed of the Executive Committees of the several Congressional Districts; and the interests of the party imperatively demand the attendance of every member who can possibly be present. Matters of vital importance will come up for consideration.

We are requested further to say that the members of the Conservative press of the State are cordially and earnestly invited to be present, to assist the State Committee in its deliberations.

Let us have a full meeting and a frank, free conversation as to what is best to be done to give permanency to the triumph of August last.

We have in hand and shall publish next week the able and convincing letter of Mr. MUNFORD McGEE, of Person county, favoring the call of a Convention. Also, the recent letter of Col. Wm. JOHNSTON, of Charlotte, upon the financial question, which now interests the whole country.

SAYS the Greensboro Patriot: "That resolution of Senator WAINGROVE, appointing a committee to meet and confer with the creditors of the State is to the point. When such a meeting takes place we can form some idea of what those creditors expect and what, consequently, our liabilities are. We will know whether they are willing to offer a reasonable compromise or not. Until we do know, what they offer is a sort of a grapple in the dark with us. With a mutual understanding the settlement of our indebtedness can be made a comparatively easy matter."

In the U. S. Senate on Monday Senator MERRIMON, of North Carolina, occupied the floor at some length in the discussion of the bill to provide for a new form of government for the District of Columbia. Says the Republican:

"Mr. Merriman entered on an elaborate argument to provide that the Federal Government had no power to confer suffrage, this power, he held, resting solely in the States. Congress had sole jurisdiction over the District of Columbia, and he opined that it should establish suffrage there. In the course of his remarks Mr. M. said of the condition of the negro in the South, in the States which the Democratic party had control. The two races, white and black, lived together in harmony. It was only in the States where the influence of the adventures from the North was patent that there was discord and trouble. In reply to questions of Mr. Sargent, he said, that the lawless proceedings in Mississippi and in Louisiana were to a parallel a misrule such as the people of New York or Massachusetts would not have stood for an instant. But this question now before the Senate had nothing to do with negro suffrage, and he would say to Senators that it was useless to attempt to lug it into every question that came before the Senate."

GENERAL BANKS says: "What the South most needs just now is being allowed the chance to reform itself." Very well said, and the remark would have applied with equal truth at any time within the last nine years.

THE Washington Republican, referring to the Finance Bill which passed the Senate Tuesday night, says:

"When the bill reaches the House it will be opposed by such Republican leaders as Gen. Butler and Judge Kelley, but will pass beyond doubt. It is earnestly supported by the Senator, not because it is exactly the kind of a bill he would suggest, but because it is the most satisfactory measure of the kind that can be got from the Senate."

Mr. Sprague's vote in the Senate attracted much attention. It was the first cast for a long time on any great measure which did not show his opposition to the majority of the Republican party. Mr. SPRAGUE voted with the Democrats and has placed himself fairly and squarely in defiance of the caucus agreement. The Democratic Senators opposed the bill as a whole.

XMAS.

According to custom, which has long obtained among the printing-craft, and which is not more honored in the breach than in the observance, we shall suspend the publication of our paper from and after to-day until Tuesday next, in order that its editors and employees may have the enjoyment of mingling in the festivities appropriate to the season with their families and friends. We are quite sure that our generous patrons will not object to this brief respite from the worries and wearings of a newspaper life. These respite are too infrequent to be grudgingly granted when asked for.

We deem this a fitting occasion to renew the expression of our grateful thanks for the liberal encouragement that has been extended to our efforts to establish and maintain here a newspaper altogether worthy of the confidence and patronage of the people of North Carolina—that should be, at once, a source of profit and a cause of pride to its patrons and friends. Gratitude prompts and then generosity deserves this acknowledgment.

We tender to the readers of the NEWS our warmest wishes for their complete enjoyment of the pleasures incident to the season; may this be the very merriest of all the merry Christmases they have ever known! And over the land of our love may perpetually brood the spirit of that peace, which was declared upon that memorable night, when from the lips of hosts of angelic heralds there fell upon the slumbering ears of Judean Shepherds the announcement of the birth of the world's Redeemer in the inscription: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good-will towards men."

PROF. KERR'S LETTER.

We invite attention to the letter of Prof. W. C. Kerr, the State Geologist, elsewhere published, upon the water powers of the State. It is full of interesting and valuable information; and is a good exhibit of the wonderful wealth of the State in the particular described. We hope, from time to time, to be able to give other communications, upon practical subjects like the present, illustrative of the agricultural, mineral and industrial sources of the State; and to secure their publication in some of the leading journals of the North and West, that the inducements offered to immigrants by us may be kept prominently before those people, who may contemplate removal in search of new homes.

The apothorism "that it is an ill wind that blows nobody good" has just met an apt illustration. Among those supposed to be lost in the Pacific steamer SS. Central America, J. S. Colby, the missing witness in the safe-burglary trial, he knew too much about that unsavory affair, and was started to Chin-Kiang, China, on a Consular mission. If his reported death be true, the President's purpose is effectually accomplished and the Orientals are spared an infliction.

Episcopal honors in Iowa do not seem in demand. Dr. Huntington, of Massachusetts, has just followed the example of Dr. Potter, of New York, in declining the vacant bishopric of the North. The two parallel a misrule such as the people of New York or Massachusetts would not have stood for an instant. But this question now before the Senate had nothing to do with negro suffrage, and he would say to Senators that it was useless to attempt to lug it into every question that came before the Senate."

The most of our State papers have expressed their determination to adopt strictly the cash system after the first of January next, in consequence of the law requiring the payment of postage after that date. We trust this determination may be carried in every case, as nothing has done so much to keep down the press of the South as the almost universal system of crediting the paper. If this new law has the effect of doing away with this system, it will have accomplished some good.

This Almanac has been issued regularly at the rate of $1.00 a year, and is highly important, and is earnestly desired.

HERE'S YOUR HANDKERCHIEF.

The St. Louis Dispatch says: "An amusing and somewhat embarrassing incident occurred on one of the Fifth street cars yesterday. The car was going northward, having a board with a respectable looking lot of passengers. At one of the street corners the bell rang, and a well dressed young woman, with a sprightly little babe in her arms, arose and left the car. As she went out something, which appeared to be a linen handkerchief, dropped from her lap. An elegantly dressed gentleman saw the article as fell, and he immediately proceeded to show his gallantry by recovering it. He was just on the point of picking it up when he discovered that it was not a handkerchief, but an article supposed to be indispensable to every civilized baby of the present day. There was a suppressed titter on the part of the ladies in the car as the embarrassed gentleman looked out the window, and then turned to him "Home, Sweet Home." The conductor about this time saw the article, which he hurriedly snatched up, and shouted to the lady who had left the car: "Here's your handkerchief! here's your handkerchief!" He came back to the car looking very red in the face, and the elegantly dressed gentleman got off at the next corner."

It affords me more than ordinary pleasure to offer to the trade and general public my new stock of Creech's, being the last few days in New York, and will be sold at prices which enable me to ask no more.

My Stock of Dress Goods embraces a large and complete line of beautiful shades and colors, with a large piece to fine fabrics. My stock of Piece Goods.

HATS, BOOTS, SHOES, CARPETS, YANKEE NOTIONS, &c.

are no doubt the largest to be found in the city, to which I would call the special attention of fine buyers, and here allow me to say that I do not propose to close or withdraw my business, but on the contrary to expand it. So bear in mind.

is the place, those who study economy and business, can do better.

Being truly alive to the demands of the trade, and anxious to secure a large trade, I will be pleased to supply the largest stock to be found in the city.
